Medical Discovery

Is a medicine that was discovered by old Numer

BERTHAND, who had been occupied in sick rooms and with the care of sick people, for over fifty years. It is made purely and entirely of Plants, Herbs and Roots, and is exceedingly agreeable and pleasant to both the taste and smell, being warm, arematic and spicy. It is a most thorough purge, cleaning out the bowels without pain, and without nausea or sickening. It does not weaken, and leaves the system open and free, never drying up the bowels afterwards, as every other purge that we know of does. It can be given to infants and invalids with eafety, and in every case of old or young, it is guaranteed to cure the worst cases of constipation, indigestion, and all diseases that affect the stomach and bowels. It is, mercover, a powerful stimulator and INVIGORATOR OF THE LIVER, its effects upon the blood and humors is something real-ly astonishing, and is much more immediate and thorough than that of any other purifier yet discovered, having this great advantage, that when it has,

by its depurating powers, set face in the system the poisons of Scrofula, Salt Rheuts, Malignant Ulcerous

Sores, and Cancerons gatherings or lumps, it instantly carries them out of the body by purging the bow-

The greatest novelty ever introduced into these music loving Islands, was patented and introduced lately as the SCUINBTTES,
And is constructed on the principle of a Caoinet Organ, and can be operated upon by any one, even a child, utterly unacquainted with music. There is no limit to either kind or quantity of music. It will play Hymn Tunes, Popular Airs, Quadrilles, Polkas, Waitzes, etc., with a clearness and accuracy which few performers can equal and can be carried under the arm. The ORGUINETTE, with its automatic music sheets, represents both organ and organist, music, musician and music teacher, and is admirably silapted for singing parties, dancing parties, evening entertainments, surprise parlies and educational purposes, and is therefore.

The Most Wonderful Mechanical Instrument The widespead interest on the subject is shown by a statement made by the Marquis of Ripon at the co-operative Congress held at Manchester in 1878. He stated that there were 2,000 societies in England, with 500,000 the puppy, as was customary in the baptism members; a share capital of $25,000,000, doing an annual business of $100,000,000.

These results have been attained by adhering strictly to honest dealings, unadulterated strictly to honest dealings, unadulterated "Certainly said the Major; I expect all the members; a share capital of $25,000,000, of children and said: have been added pluck, and a believing with ceremony.

The music can be changed instantaneously. The sets of Quadrilles and other pieces are complete in quantity, and mathematically correct in time; and as all the changes of figures are printed on the sheet, any one, even a child without car for music or musical knowledge, can provide the music, do the prompting, and so far take the place of professional musicians as to call forth the lament—"our occupation is gone. Mosticians are not everywhere available, and very few can afford to engage them when they are available. The amount usually paid them one night will buy our Orguinsite, and Music enough for every night in the year, without the unpleasantness and restraint caused by the presence of strangers. The trifling cost of the music, the compact and convenient method of keeping it, and the economy of the whole arrangement, places the Orguinette over five hundred per cent, above any other mechanical musical instrument in the world. prosperous and wealthy. If on real estate, the borrower gives a mortgage and assigns as security number of shares which when fully paid will amount in value to the loan. For instance, a person borrows one thousand dollars. He gives a mortgage and transfers five shares. Every month he pays a dollar on each share and the interest on the loan until each of his shares is worth two hundred dollars; when his debt is paid. The time of this completion depends on the price obtained for money. In some cases the limit has been reached in eight years, which gave an interest of 27 per cent.; usually it requires ten, which gives 131/2. This the non-borrowers receive in cash and the borrowers in credit on their

> This system has been in use in Philadelphia unde the name of Building Societies, for about thirty years, and there has been no case of failure. There are now over 500 of these associations in that city, with an ultimate capital of a hundred million of dollars-ten times the amount held by the Savings Banks. These have given homes to 60,000 working-men and now hold 80,000 mortgages, which are being paid off by monthly assessments. The advantage of giving to a workingman the possession or prospect of obtaining a house cannot be overestimated, and the advantage is scarcely less to him than to his wealthy neighbor. When the riots took place at Pittsburg fears were entertained that they might spread to Baltimore and New York. There was no fear for Philadelphia; for in that city the workingmen owned their houses, and formed an insurmountable barrier for the protection of property. In the great metro-polis the 500,000 inmates of tenement houses, who had nothing to loose, might have sacked the city and caused incalcuable damage before they could have been put down by the military. In the language of Thomas Hughes "No individual life can be truly prosperous passed in the midst of those who suffer; to the noble soul it cannot be happy; to the ignoble it cannot be secured."

A Sympathetic Judge.

A suit was recently tried before an Indiana justice of the peace, wherein a lady was plaintiff and a bank defendant. The evidence showed conclusively that the fair plaintiff had no right to recover: of this no one could have no right to recover: of this no one could have the "shadow of a doubt." Her learned counsel knew well that, unless he could get the sympathy of the justice, his client would have a "lost cause." He therefore labored hard in applying the "sympathetic cause." He gushed with eloquence of great warmth in refering to his client's rights, until finally great tears came trickling down his cheeks, at the sight of which the justice—who was a very tender-hearted individual—was also moved to tears. This satisfied the attorney that the sympathy of the Court was on the lady's moved to tears. This satisfied the antonion the sympathy of the Court was on the lady's side, and he closed the argument by saying:
"It does my heart good to believe that this honorable Court, in the exercise of a sound henorable Court, in the exercise of a sound discretion, will not allow the rights of a pure and noble lady to be trampled beneath the cloven feet of a soulless corporation," and took his seat, as confident that he would get a judgment as even the poor lady was. Thereupon the justice gave the following comprehensive and satisfactory decision. He said: "The plaintiff in this case is a woman and her counsel has for the last hour touched the sampathy of the Court in her behalf, and I am ork only will be done.

The Principle of Co-operation.

BY THE HON. JOSIAH QUINCY.

The principle of co-operation has been used from time immemorial; from the erection of the tower of Babel to the tunnel under the Alps, from the conquests of Cambyses to the war in Afghanistan. Since the beginning of history men have been trained to co-operate, or work together, but it has been for the benefit of the few. Millions of co-operators have fallen upon the battle-field to render the names war in Afghanistan. Since the beginning of history men have been trained to co-operate, or work together, but it has been for the benefit of the few. Millions of co-operators have fallen upon the battle-field to render the names of Cæsar and Napoleon immortal, and thousands have died in fines and manufactories to sands have died in mines and manufactories to dexterity. It would have swallowed a man sands have died in filines and manufactories to increase the wealth of individuals. This great principle has been used, almost exclusively, for the glory of kings or to the benefit of sagacious capitalists. The object of the co-operative movement is to enable the industrial classes, as far as possible, to co-operate for their own benefit, and not exclusively for that of their employers. Capitalists and philanthropists have at times endeavored to effect this object, but the lives of Fourier and Owen and the history of New Harmony and Orbiston proved that they missed the conditions of success. But what the wealthy and the wise could not do the ignorant and the poor have accomplished.

A few weavers met in Toad land, in Rochwhich familiarity with local customs rather conflicted with the Texas theory, and pro-claimed the S. S. a provincial. But then the serpent sails around so much that he acquires the habits and speech of all countries. The seabutter, 50 pounds of sugar, 6 sacks flour, 2 pounds of candles and 1 sack of meal—all to-gether worth less than $80. In 1876 they had street.) the surface up near the boat yards in Courtney bay, and, with a strong Arkansas accent asked a group of workmen if "any gentleman had any soft eating tobacco about his clothes?" And with this pleasant request for "fine cut" the sea-serpent disappeared and was seen no more.—Burd-u's Hankeye Correspondence.
